Community Sale of Downtown Business Men

Fourth Annual Event Will Be Held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of This Week—Many Bargains Promised—Useful Articles Will Be Given Away.

The fourth annual Community Sale of the Downtown Business Men's Association opens on Thursday, October 24, and continues on the 25th and 26th. There will be offerings of bargains galore and a number of free gifts to those who visit the downtown business district.

Extensive preparations are now being made by the merchants. They are stocking their shelves with bargains in all kinds of wares, which they are sure, will attract conservative buyers. This year's values it is said will equal if not surpass those of previous years. For the past three years the annual Community Sales have been price slashing events, so bargain hunters are advised by the merchants to be out strong the last three days of this week.

In addition to cutting prices on all classes of merchandise the business men through the medium of the Downtown Business Men's Association, will give away free chances on a number of useful articles which are practical necessities in every home today. All one has to do is to request a free coupon when visiting the stores.

Coupons, which will be given cheerfully by the merchants, entitle holders to chances on various articles to be given away Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Shoppers may view the articles in store windows downtown.

Articles To Be Given Away.

The articles, where they are to be displayed and the days they are to be given away are as follows: A Bee Vac vacuum cleaner, exhibited in the Goldman dress store, and a De Jur electric iron, in the J. Gramer shoe store, will be given away Thursday evening; a Community Silver set, displayed in the Max Jacobson clothing store and an electric bread toaster in the window of Sam Cline, clothier, will be given away Friday night; a Thor electric washer, exhibited in the windows of Canfield Supply Company, and the Kaplan Furniture Company and an electric sandwich toaster, displayed by the Greenwald shoe store will be given away Saturday night.

The awards will be given away at the corner of Broadway and the Strand. Coupon stubs will be placed in a large box and a little girl or boy in the crowd of spectators will be called upon to pick one from the box. The person holding the number that corresponds to the one on the coupon stub will get a prize.

It is expected that many will turn out to see the drawing of the numbers. There will be many free chances on the useful articles without a doubt because the awards are of a variety that attracts all.

Special Police for Event.

The business men, anticipating a large gathering of shoppers on the days of the Community Sale, will make arrangements to have special police to keep traffic moving. In years past the police force always cooperated with the downtown merchants in solving traffic conditions, and this year will follow their regular policy, according to officials of the association.

Downtown Business Men's Association members in charge of the Community Sale are as follows: Harry Kaplan, general chairman; J. Greenwald, advertising manager; J. Gramer, Samuel Kline and Hyman Kunst, committee on finances; H. Lehner, secretary.

Mr. Greenwald as advertising man has furnished Community Sale banners to the stores that are to take part in the sale. Shoppers will recognize the business houses offering bargains by the green and white Community Sale banners in the windows. These are the stores that will have the free chances on the articles to be given away.

Everyone is invited to visit the downtown shopping district on Thursday, Friday and Saturday to inspect the stores, procure bargains and get the free chances on the useful and attractive articles to be given away.

Edison Fatigued By Ceremonies In His Honor

Is Grateful for Tribute—Content If He Has Helped to Add to the World's Happiness.

Dearborn, Mich., Oct. 23 (AP).—So fatigued by a day of ceremony in his honor that he had to leave a banquet last night before President Hoover had spoken, Thomas A. Edison was described as in fair shape today.

Thee inventor left the hall immediately after he had delivered a brief speech. The President's physician, Lieutenant-Commander Joel T. Boone, accompanied him from the hall and examined him in an anteroom. Except for fatigue he found no indications of anything the matter. Later Mr. Edison was taken to Henry Ford's home.

A short time prior to his trip from his New Jersey home Mr. Edison suffered from pneumonia. He is 82 years old and Dearborn's day of ceremony was trying. At times he stood in the rain.

To all appearances, the President and Mrs. Hoover were none the worse for the drenching they received yesterday as they motored through a driving rain from Dearborn to Detroit and return in an open car to be acclaimed by hundreds of thousands and to receive the formal welcome of the State of Michigan from Governor Fred Green.

During most of the first day of his first extended trip since entering the White House, the President was in an atmosphere reminiscent of half a century or more ago, for Henry Ford has honored his friend, Edison, by centering an early American village around the old laboratory in which the incadescent lamp was invented and which was moved to the village from Menlo Park, N. J.

It was in the dim recesses of this laboratory, lighted by flickering open gas jets, that the aged inventor and his former assistant, Francis Jehl, reenacted the discovery of the principle of the electric light. Grouped in the building were the President and Mrs. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, Mrs. Edison and a few others.

Becoming impatient while waiting for the broadcasters to describe the scene, the inventor, who long ago lost his hearing, demanded to know: "What's that all about?"

When the experiment was at the point where the wires might be attached, Mr. Edison turned to his assistant and directed:

"Light 'er up, Francis; light 'er up."

The party for the experiment interrupted a dinner in the main rooms of the Independence Hall to go to the old laboratory and upon its return Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Company, introduced the inventor to the large company.

Edison's Speech.

Mr. Edison spoke in a breaking voice at times, thanking the President and the nation for its tribute. He said:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen: I am told that tonight my voice will reach out to the four corners of the world. It is an unusual opportunity for me to express my deep appreciation and thanks to you all for the countless evidences of your good will. I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

"I would be embarrassed at the honors that are being heaped on me on this unforgettable night were it not for the fact that in honoring me you are also honoring that vast army of thinkers and workers of the past, and those who are carrying on, without whom my work would have gone for nothing.

"If I have spurred men to great efforts and if our work has widened the horizon of man's understanding even a little and given a measure of happiness in the world, I am content.

"This experience makes me realize as never before that Americans are sentimental, and this crowning event of Light's Golden Jubilee fills me with gratitude. I thank our President and you all.

"As to Henry Ford, words are inadequate to express my feelings. I can only say to you that, in the fullest and richest meaning of the term—he is my friend.

"Good night."

Read Congratulations.

Messages of congratulation to Mr. Edison from the Prince of Wales, President Von Hindenburg of Germany and Commander Richard Evelyn Byrd, from "Little America", who described how Edison light had saved many of his company in blizzards at the bottom of the earth, were read.

President Hoover, moved by the enthusiasm by which the celebrated inventor was acclaimed the world over, frequently interpolated in his brief address tributes to the genius of Mr. Edison.

Farm Board Will Back Cotton Men

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP).—As the first major step of its work, the Federal Farm Board has worked out a plan for improving the present price of cotton and is prepared to take similar action on wheat under a project to be announced later.

The board is of the opinion that prevailing cotton prices are too low, and the solution lies in more orderly marketing of this year's crop. It is prepared to lend an unlimited amount of money to the cotton growers, that they may hold their product off the market.

Analyzing the present cotton market, the board thinks that open fall weather in the southern states has led to too rapid marketing, with world consumption meanwhile on a level equal to that of last year and the total supply of American cotton at a lesser stage than a year ago. More cotton, it believes, has been rushed into the market than it can temporarily absorb, with resulting depressed prices and lack of confidence in cotton values.

To assist the growers to hold back their crop and meanwhile meet their financial obligations, the board proposes to lend to cotton cooperatives, qualified as borrowers under the Capper-Volstead Act, "sums sufficient to bring the total amount borrowed from all sources by such associations to 16 cents per pound on graded and classed cotton, basis middling seven-eights inch staple, less proper deductions to cover freight charges."

The board pointed out that there is a cotton cooperative in every cotton growing state open to membership of every cotton farmer. The grower may join the cooperative, the statement continued, ship his cotton to its concentration point, and draw his advance after it has been graded and classified.

The cooperative will market the cotton in orderly fashion through the year, said the board, and will finally settle with the farmer "on the basis of the final price obtained."

"The board places no limit on the amount of government money to be so loaned," the statement said. "Nearly $100,000,000 is available for the purpose, and, if necessary, the board will also ask Congress to appropriate more."

STAGED SHAM HOLD-UP TO DEFRAUD INSURANCE COMPANY

Chicago, Oct. 22 (AP).—The holdup last February in which Mrs. Edwin C. Price reported the loss of $18,000 in furs and jewels had resulted today in her arrest and in the arrest of four men she named as having conspired with her to defraud an insurance company.

Mrs. Price, 18-year-old wife of an elderly millionaire manufacturer, confessed to state's attorneys last night that the holdup was a sham, they said. She resorted to it, she said, to conceal a gambling debt from her husband.

The plot was conceived, she stated, by Morris A. Barnett, to whom she confided her gambling debt dilemma. The loot was disposed of, the state's attorney was told, by Max Krakow, a manufacturing jeweler. The actual "robbers," Mrs. Price said, were Jack Baum and Ben Levin.

Mrs. Price said that Barnett suggested that she insure her jewels and furs for the sum required to meet her debts and that he would arrange to have her "robbed" and also would arrange disposal of the loot.

The "robbery" was accomplished in the late afternoon of February 25 as Mrs. Price was leaving a dress shop. Two men stripped her of her jewels and furs and drove away as she rushed back into the shop to telephone police.

Mrs. Price's husband was visibly shaken by the charge against his wife.

REPORTS CLEMENCEAU IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

Paris, Oct. 22 (AP).—George Clemenceau, "the tiger," has weathered a storm which threatened him yesterday, and today apparently was to have returned to his former surprising vigor of his 88 years.

Dr. Laubry, completing his examination of the former premier, said he found him in "excellent condition," and in "his usual joking mood" after a fine night's rest.

Cheerful news came also from the bedside of Frances' other ailing statesman, Raymond Poincare, who yesterday underwent an operation for a disorder in the pelvis region. The morning bulletin said he was "as well as possible."

FIVE SOVIET GENERALS FACE FIRING SQUAD.

Moscow, Oct. 22 (AP).—A firing squad removed five generals of the Imperial Army from the Soviet panorama yesterday, after conviction on charges of promoting a counter-revolutionary movement, the chief aim of which was to weaken the Red Army and pave the way for foreign intervention. At the same time a number of other defendants were sent to concentration camps for varying periods of hard labor. They were convicted on charges of maintaining an elaborate espionage system in the Soviet war industries.

Harry Lazarus Considering New Theatre Venture

Harry Lazarus, builder of the Broadway Theatre, who recently sold his common stock and retired from the management of that theatre, when seen at his home on Linderman avenue this morning by a Freeman reporter, stated that he expected to continue to reside in Kingston for some time, although he expected to be out of town considerably. Mr. Lazarus said he was developing his Albany Theatre property, which he owned and operated before coming to Kingston and was contemplating acquiring two other theatres, the location of which he did not care to make public at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Lazarus think highly of Kingston as a place of residence and have many friends here. They will leave, if at all, reluctantly and only when new business interests make the change absolutely necessary.

J. R. Shults Buys McMillan Building on Strand

An important real estate transaction has been completed in the lower part of the city, whereby J. R. Shults, ship chandler, takes over the McMillan building, Strand and Ferry streets.

A little over a year ago, Mr. Shults purchased the paint, glass and rope business of the late Charles McMillan. Since Mr. Shults has taken over the business it has had a steady growth and recently it was found necessary to open a branch at 32-34 Main street. They have also taken over the picture frame and wall paper business formerly conducted by Forsyth & Davis and William Reil.

The purchase of the building at Strand and Ferry streets was necessary because of the constant growth of the business. Plans are now under way for remodeling the second and third floors to make more room for the larger stock.

NO ATLANTIC FLIGHT FOR DO-X BEFORE NEXT SPRING.

Altenrhein, Switzerland, Oct. 22 (AP).—No Atlantic flight is planned for DO-X, giant Dornier airplane, before next spring, backers of the ship have made known. Distance trials, however, will be held in the near future.

Those connected with the Dornier organization and residents of the Lake Constance area alike were delighted today with the performance yesterday of the giant craft, which carried 169 passengers and crew aloft for an hour's flight.

Those who made the flight were unanimous in praising the comfort of their trip, the ease of the ship's taking off and alighting, and the remarkable speed of 105 miles an hour during which an altitude of 1,200 feet was reached.

Two sister ships, the DO-X-2 and the DO-X-3, are now half completed on Italian orders. The French government also has shown an interest in the type of craft for use across the Mediterranean between Marseilles and Algiers.

STRANGLED AUNT WHO CARED FOR HIM SINCE CHILDHOOD

Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 22 (AP).—A confession that he strangled to death his 77-year-old aunt, Mrs. Emma Hertzog, who had cared for him since he was six years old, has been obtained from John Scott, 46, county officers announced today.

County Detective A. A. Downing said Scott confessed at the state police barracks in Greensburg last night that he strangled Mrs. Hertzog with a handkerchief last Sunday morning. The motive for the act was not disclosed.

The death of Mrs. Hertzog at her home near Gans was reported to an undertaker by Scott Saturday afternoon and the undertaker notified the coroner.

Storm Warning Issued.

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP).—The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Advisory southeast storm warnings ordered 10 a. m. north of Boston to Eastport; disturbance over Ohio of considerable intestity, moving northward with secondary over western Virginia, will cause increasing southeast wind this afternoon, becoming strong late tonight and probably reaching gale force during Wednesday forenoon."

Annual Convention of Nurses.

Buffalo, Oct. 22 (AP).—More than 1,000 registered nurses, members of several state organizations of nurses, were due here today to attend the annual convention of those bodies. Groups participating are the New York State Nurses Association, the New York State League of Nursing Education and the New York State Organization for Public Health Nursing.

Arrested for Public Intoxication.

Harry McCabe, Carl Lowe, Edward Carter and Carl Fisher were brought to the Ulster county jail late Monday night from the town of Lloyd to be held for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Harold A. Lent at Highland, they being arrested on a charge of public intoxication.

Probing Leak on Secret Tariff Data

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP).—A memorandum revealing that news of the secret tariff deliberations of the senate finance committee reached the offices of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association while one of its officials was acting as secretary to Senator Hiram Bingham, led the Caraway lobby committee in a new direction today in its investigation of the Bingham incident.

The communication, intended for Charles L. Evanson, assistant to the president of the association, who as Bingham's secretary attended executive sessions of the finance group, was written by an employe of the manufacturers' organization and spoke of the opposition of some members of the committee, expressed at the private meetings, to a proposed tariff rate then pending.

J. E. Wuichet, the author of the memorandum, was called to the committee room today for questioning with respect to the source of the information that it contained. Evanson had disclaimed any remembrance of the note, when a photostatic copy was introduced by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, a member of the Caraway committee.

Other phases of the case also beckoned to members of the committee today. There was a desire for more information on the statement of Edward H. Cooley, of the Massachusetts Fisheries' Association, that he was told he must "win over" Senator Bingham and Evanson in his campaign for a reduced tariff on fish.

In addition, Chairman Caraway was anxious for more light on the connection of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad with the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association. E. Kent Hubbard, president of the association, testified that the railroad contributed three or four thousand dollars annually to his organization and Caraway wanted to know the reason for these contributions.

IRWIN KOTT HELD IN $200,000 BOND THEFT

New York, Oct. 22 (AP).—One man was held and indictments were sought against three others today accused by police of being members of a ring responsible for the theft of $200,000 worth of bonds belonging to Arthur E. Frank and Company, brokers.

The man arrested on a charge of grand larceny is Irwin Kott, bond and jewelry salesman. Those against whom indictments were sought, Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen said, are: Carl J. Lewis and Morris Lichtmann, attorneys, and Ferdinand S. Gillespie, an insurance adjuster for the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company.

The theft of the bonds from a bench in the brokers' office occurred August 5, when a messenger employed by the company laid the package down while he went for a drink of water.

Commissioner Whalen said solution of the case was brought about by members of his secret service squad after representatives of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, insurers of bonds, informed police that Gillespie had approached them with an offer to recover the securities for $75,000.

The surety representatives continued negotiations with Gillespie and detectives shadowed him. He finally delivered $110,800 worth of the bonds and was paid $42,590.

During the negotiations Gillespie was traced to the office of Lewis, who, Commissioner Whalen said, implicated Lichtmann.

The questioning of the two led to the arrest of Kott, who was released under $5,000 bail after arraignment on a charge of grand larceny. He was immediately rearrested for the slaying of Salvatore Sileo, described as his partner in bootlegging operations.

Lewis and Lichtmann were placed under bond as material witnesses.

VARE GIVES 93-ACRE ESTATE FOR HOSPITAL PURPOSES

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP).—United States Senator-elect William S. Vare, it became known today, has purchased "Abendruh," the beautiful 93-acre estate of his brother, the late State Senator Edwin H. Vare, and will dedicate it to the city of Philadelphia as a hospital for paralytics.

Friends of the senator-elect said the gift was an "expression of gratitude to God" for his own almost miraculous recovery from paralysis, with which he was stricken more than a year ago.

The property was purchased from Mrs. Flora M. Vare, widow of the late state senator, for a reported price of $250,000. It is located in Ambler, Pa., near the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club. Formal plans for the establishment of the hospital will be announced later.

MacDonald Wearied by Activities.

Montreal, Oct. 22 (AP).—Wearied by eighteen days of conferences and social functions, Ramsay MacDonald today looked forward to several days of rest in the Lake St. John district of Quebec before sailing for home on Friday. With his daughter, Ishbel, and members of his party, the British prime minister left last night by special train for Chicoutimi, where he will be the guest of Lieutenant Colonel John P. Price. He will return to Quebec Friday to embark on the steamship Duchess of York.

5,000 Inspected City Hall Building Monday

Reconstructed Building Made Favorable Impression On Large Number — Interesting Data From Judge Clearwater's History of Kingston — Visitors Receive Booklet.

It was estimated that five thousand people called at the city hall on Inspection Day Monday and were shown through the building. Those who inspected the building were favorably impressed with the work that had been done in reconstructing the city hall after the fire of two years ago.

All who visited the city hall were presented with a souvenir in the form of a forty-six page booklet containing a history of the city from its formation to the present day. This book was written by Judge A. T. Clearwater, city historian.

In his history Judge Clearwater writing of the city hall says: Outstanding achievement of the present city administration is the rebuilding of our city hall, originally designed by Arthur Crooks, a talented architect of New York. Its general characteristics are those of the celebrated Palazzio Vecchio of Florence, Italy. Originally there were large unoccupied spaces in the building. These have been reclaimed.

The third floor originally intended as a general meeting place, was abandoned for that purpose. The new common council chamber, a spacious room with a seating capacity of four hundred spectators, now fills that space and is one of the most beautiful council rooms in the state.

It is paneled in soft tones of tan and just below the ceiling above these panels gleams the dull silver finish of an historical frieze. Large windows at the rear command a far reaching view of the city, of the Catskills, and provide an abundance of light and air. A huge wrought iron chandelier pending from a decorated panel in the ceiling is supplemented by four smaller chandeliers, while candle fixtures flank each wall panel providing a flood of clear illumination.

Burned June 4, 1927.

It will be recalled that the fire, which destroyed the city hall, broke out on the third floor on Saturday evening, June 4, 1927, and before the fire could be brought under control the interior of the building was ruined.

City employes under the direction of Mayor E. J. Dempsey removed the city records to a safe place, and temporary quarters were immediately opened in the Municipal Building and the Central Fire Station on East O'Reilly street. So rapidly was the work done that the city's business was not interrupted and all of the offices were opened as usual on Monday morning, following the fire.

By using the Municipal Building and the Central Fire Station the city saved the rental that would have had to be paid out for temporary office space in private buildings. This would have amounted to a large sum.

When the reconstructed city hall was finally ready for occupancy the work of removing the temporary offices back to the building was taken up at the close of the day's work on Saturday and the following Monday work was resumed in the new city hall without a minute's interruption or delay.

Building Finely Equipped.

While undoubtedly the common council chamber came in for the major share of favorable comment the fact was not overlooked that in rearranging the office spaces throughout the building every advantage had been taken of the floor space and there is no waste room in the new building.

Today the city can well be proud of its city hall, which is without question one of the finest public buildings located in any city in the country the size of Kingston.

The architects who designed the new building were George E. Lowe, Girard W. Betz and Myron S. Teller.

Interesting Data.

To the many thousands of citizens of Kingston who were unable to attend the opening of the City Hall, the following data from Judge Clearwater's tribute distributed to those who did attend, will prove of great interest:

Eighty-four per cent of the people over eighteen years of age are connected with a church organization by a confession or concurrence with its faith. There are 33 church edifices in the city.

Health conditions demonstrate that the rate of infant mortality between birth and five years of age is lower than that of any city of similar population in the United States publishing tabulations of vital statistics, and adult longevity from 70 to 90 years is greater.

A great and outstanding activity of the City's Board of Health and of the bacteriological laboratory has been the immunization against diphtheria of over 3,000 children of school and pre-school age.

Eleven thousand one hundred fifty-seven bacteriological examinations of water and milk and for the bacteria of infectious diseases, typhoid fever, pneumonia, diphtheria, tuberculosis, malaria, meningitis,

Another Action Resulting from an Automobile Crash

Another action resulting from an automobile accident, the second to be tried during this term of Supreme Court, was begun Monday afternoon. Elton J. Tompkins has brought charges against Henry Meyer, who is alleged to have run into the Tompkins car when turning at Ireland Corners on the Gardiner-Highland road. The collision took place on Sunday afternoon, May 12, 1929. Mr. Tompkins is trying to recover for the damage to his machine and personal injuries. John F. Wadlin represents the plaintiff and the New York firm of Ireland, Caverly & Hendrickson, through Andrew J. Cook, represents the defendant.

The plaintiff contends that he was driving east on the Gardiner-Highland road, toward Highland. As he came to Ireland Corners, the plaintiff said he came to a full stop on the right hand side of the road, and that the defendant, who was going north on the Wallkill-New Paltz road, decided to turn west. The plaintiff contends that the defendant was traveling at a high rate of speed and that he turned sharply left, running into the plaintiff's car. The corner is said to have been widened by the addition of triangle fill-ins, until it is really a curve rather than a corner.

The defendant contends that he brought his car to a stop before making the turn, and that some unaccountable thing happened to bring the cars together in the collision. Both sides admit that the day was clear at the time of the accident, and that there are no obstructions at the corner which would prevent a clear view. The defense further contends that the plaintiff was traveling at an excessive rate of speed, and that the accident was unavoidable under the circumstances.

Mr. Tompkins, who was driving an Oakland sedan, claims that the defendant's car, a Chevrolet, struck his machine just behind the front wheel, and that the defendant's car right front wheel was damaged in the clash. According to the plaintiff, the accident took place about 30 feet from the corner on the Gardiner-Highland road. Mr. Tompkins further contends that the defendant had about 25 feet of clear roadway on the defendant's right, where he could have gone to avoid the collision.

Defendant Testifies.

The defendant testified that he was traveling about 25 miles an hour approaching the corner, and that he slowed down to 15 miles as he reached it, and then brought his car to a stop. He said that he saw the plaintiff's car approaching at an excessive rate of speed. Mr. Meyer said that when his car came to a stop, it had not left the concrete, but that he was stopped on the left hand flange.

Miss Irene M. Williamson, who was riding in the front seat with the defendant, and who was injured as a result of the crash, said that she did not see the plaintiff's machine until it was almost upon the defendant's car. She stated that Mr. Meyer and herself had been stopped a full minute when the crash occurred. According to her, the plaintiff's machine was traveling at a high rate of speed. She did not see any other car on the road, and there was nothing else to distract her attention. She was thrown into the windshield of the car and could tell nothing of the position of the cars after the crash, because of her injuries. She testified that she and the defendant had driven about 85 miles in the three hours preceding the accident. The defense then rested.

In rebuttal the plaintiff stated that he did not at any time previous to the accident drive his car at an excessive rate of speed and that he did keep his car on the right hand side of the road at all times. The plaintiff then rested.

The case was given to the jury at noon.

UNDERSTOOD FIVE WORDS OF EINSTEIN'S MESSAGE.

Berlin, Oct. 22 (AP).—Just five words of Dr. Albert Einstein's message from across the seas to America today over an international radio broadcasting arrangement were in English, and hence understandable to the vast majority of his listeners.

Those words were at the conclusion of his short address, when he said, addressing himself to Mr. Edison, in whose honor he was on the air:

"Good night my American friend."

The famous scientist's speech was very poorly heard in America, due to faulty reception.

The men are Chicago engineers, Prof. L. Garner (left) and U. A. Sanabria, developers of a television system requiring only half the usual 100-kilocycle band. Above them is the new transmission scanner. The girl is Yvonne Metz, being televised by a portable "electric eye" with a 12-inch photoelectric cell.

The Cow is off the Track!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Railroads have safely passed those danger signals of prejudice which caused folks to look upon them with fear. Holding aloft the semaphore of progress AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE cleared the track and, today, millions travel in ease and security.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Conference of Sullivan P.-T. A.

The annual conference of the presidents and officers of the Parent-Teacher Association of Sullivan county was held on Saturday, October 19, at Livingston Manor. The arrangements for this conference were made by the Sullivan county chairman, Mrs. Eugene Bouton and the president of the Livingston Manor P-T. A., Mrs. Ernest Treyz.

The luncheon and conference were held at one of the large boarding houses. Besides the regular delegates, four delegates were present from Jeffersonville, where an association is about to be formed.

The Rev. McClure, pastor of Jeffersonville Presbyterian Church was one of the delegates from that place. He told something of the work of the P.-T. A. of Monroeville, Ohio, of which he was a member at one time. There were over 100 members. Refreshments were served at meetings, the members being divided into groups of 10 or so that each member served but once a year. Twice a year the men served. At one time the men made and served oyster stew followed by apple pie which they had induced their wives to make.

A round-table conference was conducted by the Poughkeepsie district chairman, Mrs. Arthur H. Russell of Kingston. Mrs. Russell advised those forming new associations to preserve all records even to the minutes of the temporary secretaries for future reference, to make the dues light enough so as not to keep out the poorest prospective member and to subscribe at once for the Child Welfare magazine, the official bulletin of the National organization which will be of invaluable help in planning the programs for their meetings, also to affiliate at once with the state and national that helpful literature may be sent them.

Mrs. Russell told of her visit to the Walden P.-T. A. and of the group meetings which proved the most popular part of their last year's program. At the close of the business meeting the teachers of various grades would hold conferences in separate rooms with parents having children in their grades and wishing to consult with them. Later the teachers and parents of the first three grades gave a Christmas party with tree and presents to their children, the teachers and parents of the middle grades gave their children a Hallowe'en party and the older grades were given a tea dance.

Mrs. Russell recommended individual and club study books, "Parents and Teachers" by Martha Sprague Mason and "The P.-T. A. and Its Work" by Dr. Julian Butterworth at the New York State Convention held in Troy. The definition of education was given as learning to know the best things and of culture as learning to like the best things. She gave the seven cardinal objective of education as set forth by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers: No. 1, health and safety; No. 2, worthy home membership; No. 3, mastery of the tools, technics and spirit of learning; No. 4, faithful citizenship; No. 5 vocational and economic effectiveness; No. 6, wise use of leisure; No. 7, ethical character. She stated that as Parent-Teacher leaders and members all must live the things preached to others in order to better conditions in any community. Those from Kingston attending this conference were the district chairman, Mrs. A. H. Russell, the district secretary, Mrs. W. R. Anderson; and Mrs. Harry Clearwater, president of School No. 6 P.-T. A. On Saturday, October 26, the Putnam county conference will be held at Patterson, N. Y.

Textile Workers Plan Appeals

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 22 (AP)—Convicted of second degree murder and three counts of assault in connection with the slaying of O. F. Aderholt, Gastonia police chief, and wounding of other officers during textile strike disorders there, seven members of the National Textile Workers' Union today planned appeals to the state supreme court in an effort to escape long prison sentences.

Four of the defendants who came to North Carolina from the east and led a strike at the Loray mill of the Manville-Jenckes Company which preceded the disorders in which Aderholt was killed were given sentences of seventeen to twenty years in state's prison on the second degree murder count and sentences of ten years, to run concurrently with the other sentences, on a count of assault. Prayer for judgment on two counts of assault was continued.

Those given the seventeen to twenty year sentences by Judge M. V Barnhill, who presided over their three weeks' trial, were Fred Erwin Beal, Lawrence, Mass.; Clarence Miller, New York; Joseph Harrison, Passaic, N. J., and George Carter, Mizpah, N. J.

Three Gastonia strikers tried and convicted along with the eastern labor leaders received shorter sentences. William McGinnis and Louis McLaughlin were sentenced to twelve to fifteen years each in state's prison on the murder charge and to five to seven years on the assault charges, the sentences to run concurrently. K. Y. Hendricks was given a five to seven year sentence.

THOM McAN STORES ARE C. OF C. JOINERS

How some 440 Thom McAn shoe store managers are discovering "acres of diamonds" in their community relationships is described by Joseph Diffley, district supervisor for the company in New York state, who is in Kingston for a visit to the local store, and gives the prescription which "humanized" the Thom McAn chain as follows:

RX—first, 100 per cent Chamber of Commerce affiliation; second, training of store managers to play an active, intelligent role in their community affairs, and thirdly, the application of a broad, elastic plan for handling charity donations in the towns.

The net result is that Thom McAn holds the standing, running, broad jump world's record in the matter of Chamber memberships, the company having joined the local bodies at the remarkable rate of 1⅓ a day for the last three months. The total now is 173, which leaves some sixty odd cities in which the chain is as yet unaffiliated. This gap, it is expected, will be closed before another 30 days.

YORK'S FAME SECURE.

Possibly in these times of pacifism gone to extremes there are earnest souls who look upon Sergeant Alvin C. York as a bloody creature who ought to be censured instead of praised. Possibly they think that, instead of squatting in the brush and picking off Germans with the unerring aim he acquired shooting off the heads of turkeys in the Tennessee mountains, he should have surrendered himself in order to avoid more bloodshed rather than stick at it until he forced the capitulation of a machine gun nest and achieved the capture, single handed, of 132 demoralized Germans. But whether pacifism has anything to do with it or not, it seems rather late in the day to seek to shear the Tennesseean of his laurels or clip most of them away, as was attempted upon the occasion of the War College's recent military carnival in Washington, two of York's platoon, Early and Merithew, who were reported as "put out of action early in the fight," protesting that they too had a hand in the game and violently objecting to the spectacle of York "drummed up and down the country as a one-man army."

Yet all the accounts indicated that he was just about that and no less. His extraordinary exploit was trumpeted throughout Europe, and the War Department's citation when the Medal of Honor was conferred on him read as follows: "After his platoon had suffered heavy casualties and other non-commissioned officers had become casualties, Corporal York assumed command. Fearlessly leading seven men, he charged with great daring a machine-gun nest which was pouring deadly and incessant fire on his platoon. In this heroic feat the machine-gun nest was taken with four officers and 128 men and seven guns."

RAMPANT REFORMERS.

The eugenists or "eugenicists" don't appear to be getting anywhere in their efforts to select the fathers of the race, but they seem to make up in self-confidence and persistence what they lack in achievement. They want the rich or the upper classes to produce the children and the poor to be largely denied that privilege, but the former go on sidestepping the responsibility and the latter continue to accept it with a prodigality that gives the eugenists fits. At the third annual congress of the World League for Sexual Reform in London Dr. Binnie Dunlop went so far as to recommend legislation compelling the "poorest third" of the population to have no more than three children at the most. "Some people," he said, "thought that recklessness, alcoholism and religion would in many countries keep up the fertility of the poorest classes, but if this unhappily proves to be correct it would still be possible to provide legislation for the sterilization of those in the poorest third who had more than one child."

He added that "if you can secure a very low birthrate among the poorest classes, very little else in the way of social reform will have to be done." In order to do this he would brush aside the fundamental rights of the individual as of no moment and "sterilize" by law all in the "poorest third of the population" who venture to have more than one child! It is a proposition to substitute biological tyranny for human rights. Not the least affliction of the modern world is the rampant reformer, wise in his own conceit, who preposterously undertakes to manage the world and measure all humanity by his one pitiful little yardstick.

Recalling the "good old times" when she lived in a spacious San Francisco house and her mother commanded seven servants whose "combined wages would scarcely have amounted to the sum paid to one general servant today," Julie H. Heyneman contends that "the existing prejudice against domestic service in America is, to a great extent, the result of education along standardized lines, and to the propagation of the pernicious idea that household duties, when freely rendered by wife, mother or daughter, are somehow ennobling, yet become degrading when performed by a paid worker."

Rachel Lindsay pointedly protests against the long-standing and continuing practice among English reviewers of lauding new American poets as "the greatest since Longfellow," fatuously imagining that nothing could be more acceptable than recognition so expressed. "Personally," writes Mr. Lindsay in The Landmark, "I would be (should be?) highly complimented if some one said that in my best moments I came within a mile of William Vaughan Moody or Sidney Lanier. But the British have not yet learned our real classics."

EPILEPTICS CAN BE HELPED.

As a student I learned that there were certain ailments that were incurable but that treatment should be given during attacks. These ailments included such conditions as heart disease, angina pectoris, asthma and epilepsy.

Nowadays all these conditions are being helped because research men have been investigating their causes. Epilepsy was just considered as some 'brain' trouble and there was nothing that could be done about it. Now they think of epilepsy as a symptom only, just as headache can be a symptom of twenty or more ailments. It is said that there is one epileptic to every two hundred people in North America.

There are three factors in every case of epilepsy; first a change in the structure of the nervous system; second, an instability of the nerve cells due to heredity, mental conflicts, or little chemical changes within the cells themselves; third, something interfering with the circulation of the blood within the brain; from the ductless glands, the lungs, or very frequently from the digestive tract.

The first thought in the treatment is to try to locate the cause—any family history of nervous ailments, any lack of development physically, any foods that may affect this particular patient, any previous infectious diseases, or any head injuries.

There should also be an X-ray examination of the head, an examination of the workings of the ductless glands, of the teeth, tonsils, sinuses, gall bladder, and so forth; X-ray examination of intestinal tract and examination of spinal fluid; urine and blood. Further, epilepsy is one ailment where the attacks should be treated vigorously, as repeated attacks certainly damage the nervous system. As you know the drug used all over the world, the bromides, is the most effective means of limiting the number and duration of the attacks.

Diet is most important; the use of fats to take the place of bread and vegetables has proven very helpful. Fasting would likely be a cure in many cases but of course that is impossible. I have spoken before of a case I kept free from attacks for over a year by simply washing out the stomach two and three times a week.

Cutting out a section of the large intestine stopped the attacks in 55 cases, but the attacks have returned in the majority of these cases.

So try to discover some cause. Try the fat diet. Do all you can for these sufferers.

THE LUXURY HUSBAND

By MAZIE GREIG

SYNOPSIS: Barbara and Ray are drifting apart. Ray, embittered by his failure in the office of Barbara's uncle and the necessity of continually accepting money from her, is approaching a crisis. He refuses to attend parties with Barbara's friends because he cannot bring himself to enjoy their company. Their acquaintances seem to draw inferences unfavorable to Barbara and Ray will soon separate. Then Ralph Henderson comes to New York and Barbara invites him to stay with her and Ray. The two men, obviously unfriendly, are little of each other but Barbara is always in Henderson's company.

Chapter 11

PAYING THE PIPER

IN the days following Henderson's arrival, Ray scarcely saw Barbara. Rarely did she tumble into bed until long after Ray was asleep. He had left for the office before she arose, and she had given up lunching with him in the city.

Even when he did see her alone—a rare occasion in itself—she would prattle continuously of parties, parties, parties, until he felt that he could scream at the mention of the word.

Seldom did he accompany them on these occasions, pleading that late hours interfered with his office work. Soon, as was inevitable, since he invariably refused, Barbara's friends gave up inviting him.

"Do come, Barbara, and bring that charming English friend of yours, Mr. Henderson," some girl or other would say over the phone. "We're all so crazy about him!"

No mention of Ray. At first this elimination of Ray annoyed Barbara, and once she had been known to retort:

"Why, yes, I think we shall be glad to come. All three of us. You're inviting Ray, of course."

"Of course, dear; careless of me not to have mentioned him. But I guess I thought that, as usual, he'd be too busy to accept!"

Then just the faint suspicion of a laugh, implying that the speaker knew as well as Barbara that her words had been mere bluff, for wasn't it obvious that Barbara had no use for her husband when she had that attractive Englishman in tow?

She did want Ray. It both hurt and exasperated her that he would never accept. But her own pride refused to allow her to plead with him. So it invariably happened that she and Henderson went alone.

Ray, on his part, found that these evenings he spent by himself were strangely precious. Not as precious, of course, had he and Barbara been at home together—just the two of them—but better, infinitely, than being one of a crowd of noisy, shrieking people.

Directly she and Henderson were out of the house he would go up to his den, a room right at the top of the house that contained little in the way of furnishing except a piano. Once there he would commence to play—usually a tune that had been running through his head all day—some elusive melody he was determined to capture.

Presently, he would forget his surroundings, imagining instead that he was on a platform leading an orchestra in some composition of his own. Then, at the conclusion he would imagine the applause—in that moment supremely conscious of the thrill of recognized achievement.

No longer Ray Lowther the penniless saxophone player whom Barbara Landon had married, he was, instead, Ray Lowther the famous composer who had put jazz on a higher plane than that it had yet achieved.

Ray had not intended to accompany Barbara and Henderson to Bertha Maitland's party. But since she had called him personally on the phone and had insisted that she had plan'd it on a Saturday night especially so that he might be there, he did not see how he could reasonably refuse.

It was nothing unusual in the way of parties. A jaded crowd, music from an electric Victrola; the whole house permeated by a forced hilarity that had little real fun beneath it.

Late in the evening Ray found himself momentarily isolated, a cruiser he had been endeavoring to amuse having drifted away in the arms of some other man. Noticing that men were in the majority, he felt no compunction in wandering off into one of the adjoining rooms.

It was a small room, romantically darkened, the only light filtering through heavy purple lampshades. He smiled sardonically, thinking on the reason for this threesome and, without more ado, flung himself at full length into an arm-chair.

Presently his lids closed down and he felt himself floating away into space. For a while he fought against this feeling but, in the end, it must have conquered him for the next thing of which he was actively conscious was voices in a far corner of the room.

Fully awake now, he wondered whether the newcomers were ignorant of his presence; they might well be since the back of his chair hid him completely. About to make some movement, he suddenly recognized from the voices that the man was Henderson and the girl, Cora Munford, that last word in flappers.

"I find you girls over here most awfully attractive," Henderson was saying. "You've got it all over our English girls. How do you do it? You seem to wake up so much sooner and make so much more of your youth. If you don't mind my saying it, an English girl of your age would have a self-conscious air, two pigtails, an irritating giggle and a shiny nose!"

Cora Munford smiled. It was a smile that began with her eyes and worked slowly all over her face.

"I noticed that when I was abroad last year," she told him, "they did seem awful umb to me. Why, at one country house where I visited, when they heard my age they expected me to have dinner in the nursery with the kids!"

They both laughed.

"What do you think makes the difference?"

Cora appeared to be thinking.

"It's because we've got the pep," she announced finally. "That's what counts in a girl. So long as you've got pep, and plenty of it, you can get any fellow you want!"

Henderson regarded her with a tolerant smile. This sophisticated kid he found vastly entertaining.

"And what sort of a fellow do you want? If pep's your criterion, then, without a doubt you'll land him!"

"Oh, I intend to marry some wealthy man, divorce him, and then live off the alimony," she announced laughingly.

Henderson straightened himself with a jerk. Such a diabolical statement to come from the lips of this soft piece of femininity who but yesterday must have been a mere babe! However, she might not be serious.

"That blasts my hopes completely," he said. "We'd been getting on so famously tonight that I'd begun to hope. . . ."

"Cut out the sob stuff," she interrupted. "Besides, every one knows that you're hooked already."

Again he regarded her in amazement. These American girls could be frank; distressingly frank! But he answered good humoredly.

"That's interesting. On whose hook am I supposed to be dangling?"

"Barbara Lowther's, of course. You're always together."

With his innate reserve, Henderson's first impulse was to resent her outspokenness. But, on second thoughts he reflected that to be so openly coupled with Barbara might be to his decided advantage.

"I'll admit that Barbara and I do hit it off pretty well," he conceded.

"That's obvious! But what I can't figure out is how her husband stands for it. He doesn't look white-livered to me!"

Henderson laughed shortly.

"The poor devil has to stand for it. All the money belongs to her and you know the old maxim: 'Who pays the piper is at liberty to call the tune!'"

Of Malayan Origin

The word "batik" designates a process for coloring fabrics, originating among Dutch East-Indian natives, and now used in Europe for velvet, velour, etc., in which the design is covered with melted wax and the uncovered portions dyed, the wax then being dissolved in boiling water. It is derived from the Malay batik.—Literary Digest.

WHY WE DO IT

Why We Get Homesick

By MEHRAN K. THOMSON, Ph. D.
Author of "The Springs of Human Action"

HOMESICKNESS and lovesickness are first cousins. As a rule homesickness includes lovesickness of a sort. Frequently the folks at home more than the house are the cause of that peculiar sinking sensation around the heart. Yet a man may be homesick for a house, a town, and even for the frozen northland if it be his birthplace.

We get homesick because we have been so definitely and firmly attached to a place that upon leaving it we leave part of our self behind. Our thoughts fly back. The disrupted personality is seeking to get together again just as water seeks its own level. This tugging and stretching of the self causes the feeling of longing and unfulfilled desire which we call homesickness.

The sensations of homesickness and lovesickness are intensified forms of restlessness which mark every thwarted impulse. Whenever you have an inner drive to do something you are tense, expectant, restless. It is the drive of every instinctive act without which the impulse would have no force. It is the instinct of hunger did not persist and make the individual restless he might forget to eat and die of starvation.

Animals too, not only have this persistent uneasiness characteristic of all instinctive reactions, but they also get homesick even worse than human beings. You probably never saw a live gorilla because they cannot be kept alive in captivity for more than a few months.

Although the largest and fiercest of the monkey tribe the gorilla really dies of homesickness when separated from its native habitat.

Children and inexperienced people are more prone to homesickness because their home attachments are stronger and play a much larger part in their life. The experienced person has wider contacts, more self-confidence and greater adaptability. He has probably been away from home before and home ties once severed are mended with difficulty and are not likely to be as strong again.

Like the antitoxins which develop in the blood of a diphtheria patient and conquer the disease, so the very thing which causes homesickness is the thing that cures it, namely familiarity, at-homeness. We are homesick because we are lonesome, we feel shut off from the old familiar scenes. We overcome homesickness by making new friends and new ties, by literally making ourselves at home. But it takes time and congenial soil to transplant a human being successfully.

Deserves Gruesome Name

The body of water with a name meaning "gates of sorrow" is Babel Mandeb, a strait connecting the Indian ocean and the Red sea. It separates the southeastern part of Arabia from the continent of Africa. Near the African coast are the volcanic islets, Eight Brothers. The strait offers so many dangers to small vessels that the same meaning gates of sorrow was given to it.

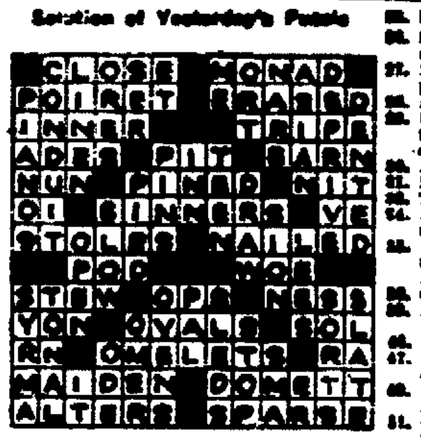
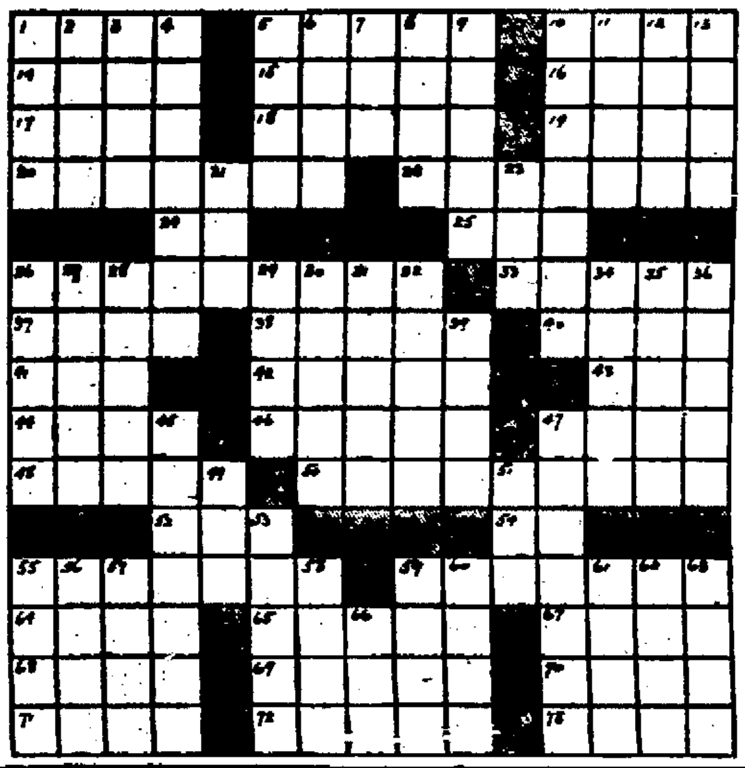
Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle





FOR the motorist who is on the alert to balance his dollars against real value, an Exide automobile battery offers an opportunity to get his money's worth.

ALWAYS Look for the Blue and White Sign

Exide Batteries are made by the world's largest manufacturers of storage batteries for every purpose. Early types of electric horseless carriages of 30 odd years ago were propelled by Exides. Later in 1911, the first car to be equipped with an electric "self" starter used an Exide. Since then Exides have given millions of motorists the world over, economical and dependable battery service.

Make this price tag your guide in comparing new car values

List Price. The f. o. b. price advertised by the factory.
Freight and Delivery. An authorized amount to cover the freight charges paid by the dealer and the cost of unloading, inspecting, supplying fuel and oil—preparing the car for delivery to you.
Accessories. A charge for any additional accessories that may be purchased.

TWO different cars may be advertised at approximately the same "f.o.b." price, yet there may be a considerable difference between their delivered prices.

Why?

Because the delivered price of a new car is set by the dealer. To the "f.o.b." price he adds certain charges—and these may, or may not, be fair and reasonable.

In line with General Motors' policy of frankness, its dealers use the standard price tag illustrated at the left. It shows you exactly what makes up the delivered price of a new General Motors car. Every charge is there; every charge is fair and reasonable. There is nothing hidden to permit a seemingly better trade-in offer, or to cover advertising, etc.

Make this standard price tag your guide in comparing automobile values. Use it to analyze the items that make up the delivered prices of other cars. Make sure you are getting your money's worth. The General Motors cars are:

CHEVROLET	MARQUETTE	BUICK
PONTIAC	OAKLAND	LaSALLE
OLDSMOBILE	VIKING	CADILLAC

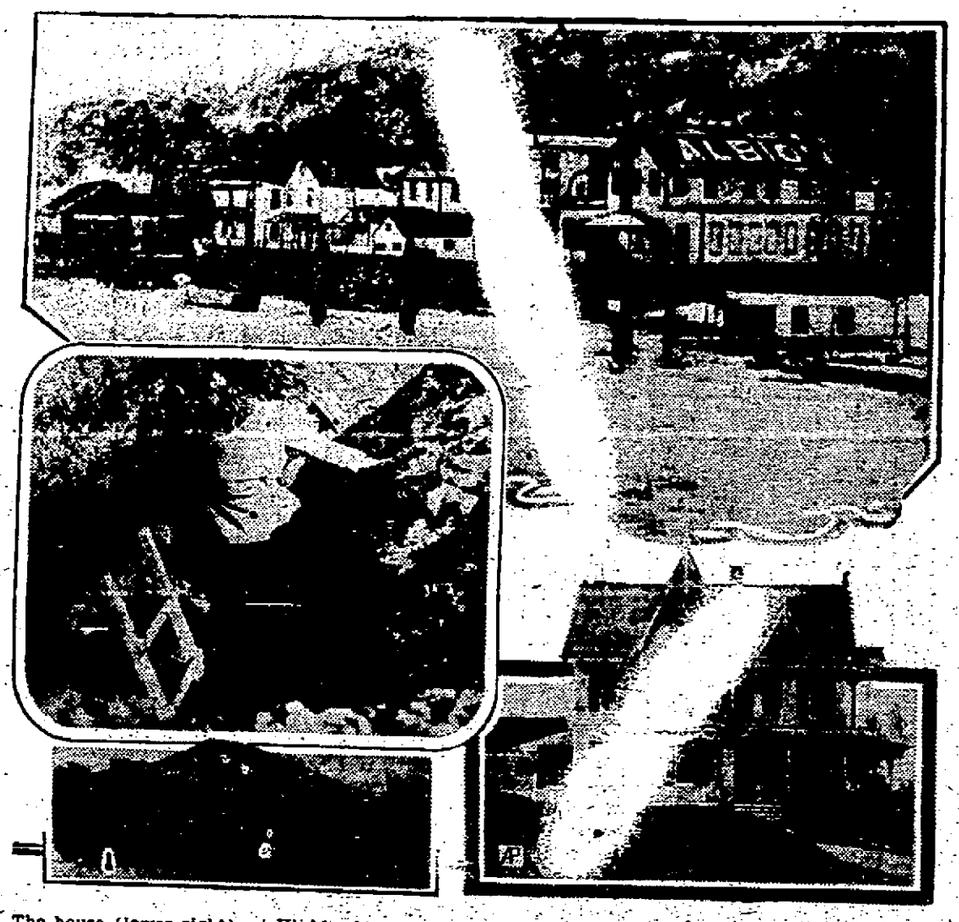
What Dry Army's Broom Did



The house (lower right), at Highlands, N. J., is alleged to have been the "fortress" headquarters of a bootlegging syndicate which is said to have made $2,000,000 profits in six months. It is shown as it appeared the day after federal dry raiders swept the Jersey coast October 16. Viewing the tank, on the estate, is a government agent. Whether it was meant for liquor or oil had not been determined. Also on the estate is the uncompleted garage (lower left), with 12-foot doors that would admit large trucks. The Albion Hotel (above), on the Shrewsbury river at Highlands, houses forty of the syndicate's alleged workers.

Tropical Nut

Cashew nuts are not real nuts in the manner of speaking. They are the seeds of the cashew fruit, but unlike the seeds of most fruit with which we are familiar, which are in the center of the fruit, the cashew nuts form the end of the fruit. The fruit itself is delicious. It is used in the tropical countries for the making of beverages, preserves, etc., or may be eaten raw.

SOL FAILS TO MAKE GOOD AT FORECASTS

Sunspot Phenomena Are Not Yet Explained.

Washington.—Old Sol recently staged his big parade of plain and fancy sunspots, but has not yet been able to establish himself as a reliable herald of mundane weather, in the opinion of official forecasters here.

The period when the sun exhibits the maximum number of spots, recurring at intervals of approximately 11 years, is now passing. Although the sunspot demonstrations in recent months have engrossed interest of scientists and public in all parts of the world, the United States weather bureau sees no new and dependable evidence that sunspots afford a reliable basis for weather forecasting, as pseudo-scientists have alleged from time immemorial.

"This bureau has given careful attention to studies of solar phenomena, but does not know of any study that has established a definite relation between weather conditions and sunspots," Dr. Charles F. Marvin, chief of the weather bureau, said.

Has Not Been Proved.

"It would be exceedingly difficult to establish such a relationship because of the rotation of earth and sun, and also because at any one time there are many kinds of weather occurring in different parts of the earth. How may one determine which particular kind of weather might theoretically be correlated with a sunspot which might at the time exist? We would welcome any rational demonstration that sunspots control the weather, but so far this has not been proved, and some of the efforts to do so have been absurd.

"On the other hand, terrestrial magnetic and auroral phenomena have been closely co-ordinated with the sunspots."

Doctor Marvin said that the bureau possesses information concerning sunspots going back to the early Christian era, and that a complete detailed record of sunspots is available commencing in 1749. This record has been graphed by bureau scientists and shows that the number of sunspots goes through cycles of eleven years, this approximate period elapsing between the recurrence of the maximum number of spots. This maximum falls roughly in the latter part of 1928 and early in 1929.

Meteors May Cause Them.

The record shows that in some months as many as 250 spots have been visible, while in others there may be none at all. The longest period when the sun was unspotted was 23 months from 1809 to 1811.

"Some scientists hold the view that the eleven-year period is the result of gravitational action resulting from movements of the planets Jupiter and Saturn, but other authorities contend that the spots could be explained by internal action of the sun," Doctor Marvin said.

"Recently the bureau published, on its merits, a study of the planetary hypothesis of sunspots by Dinsmore Alter of the University of Kansas, which sought to show that short period fluctuations in the spottedness of the sun could be correlated with the movements of Venus, Mercury and the earth. Other scientists entertain the theory that the sunspots may be caused by meteors which strike the sun."

Regrets Fibbing, Rides 40 Miles to Confess It

Tafe, Calif.—One man's conscience caused him to drive 40 miles at an early hour to correct a trivial prevarication, according to State Traffic Officer Robert C. Dear, in charge of the West side detail of state traffic officers. The gray-haired man with foot-long whiskers drove into the local state traffic department office to obtain an operator's license.

He resides on a homestead about twenty miles above McKittrick, and has been driving an automobile for several years. He passed the examination and told Officer Dear that he had obtained an operator's license in 1927.

The next day about six o'clock the man arrived at the local office and waited until the department opened at eight o'clock, and then sidled up to Officer Dear and told him he had something very important to tell him. He hadn't obtained a license in 1927, and his conscience had bothered him so badly during the night that he couldn't sleep, so he just had to come in and straighten the matter out. Officer Dear says he'll get his license.

Hickman's Captors Lose Los Angeles Rewards

Los Angeles.—The city of Los Angeles is not authorized to offer or pay any rewards for the apprehension of criminals, and 12 claimants of the $10,000 reward offered by officials for the capture of William Edward Hickman are "out of luck," City Attorney Erwin P. Werner has advised the council.

Werner's ruling was given after the council had adopted an ordinance instructing the city clerk to deliver $10,000 to Los Angeles county for the purpose of bringing an inter-pleader action in the courts to determine the rights of claimants.

Among the claimants were Tom Gardiner and Buck Lienallen, Oregon captors of Hickman, the slayer of Little Marion Parker.

Father and Son Banquet Nov. 15

A committee of men representing the Kingston churches, together with representative boys from the Hi-Y Club and Boy Scouts, met at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening and formulated plans for the annual father and son banquet. The committee seemed eager to carry on this affair and are hoping to make this year's banquet one of the best in the history of the city.

Fred Van Deusen was the unanimous choice of the committee for its general chairman and he said in accepting the responsibility that the banquet would go over in fine style if everyone did his part. The general committee was then broken up into the following sub-committees: Program, Professor B. C. Van Ingen, chairman; dinner, W. H. Niles, chairman; tickets and publicity, Fred Van Deusen, chairman; dad and boy committee, Clarence Dumm, chairman. The decorations and arrangements were left to the Hi-Y Club and Scouts, who volunteered their services.

After considerable discussion it was decided to hold the banquet on Friday evening of national father and son week, which brings the date Friday, November 15.

Those present at last night's meeting were: Fred Van Deusen, Samuel Messinger, B. C. Van Ingen, W. H. Niles, F. B. Matthews, Harry Elmendorf, G. N. Wood, Harry Marquart, William G. Newkirk, Robert Carpenter, Burton Streeter, Donald Buswell, Aaron P. Dornbusch, H. N. Smith, and N. H. Fuller, boys' work secretary at the Y. M. C. A. There were other members on the committee, but they were prevented from being present at last night's meeting. The committee was much in favor of the union banquet and voted to hold it in the gym of the Y. M. C. A.

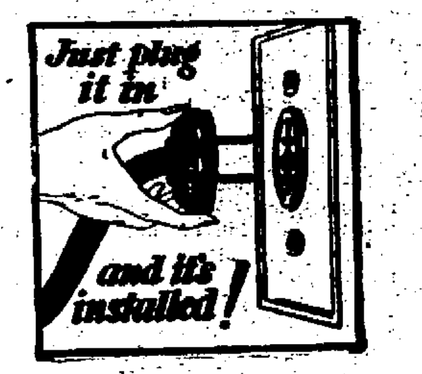
....EXTRAORDINARY....



SILVER RADIOS are just so good that, out in California—even during the summer months—one after another brings in Japan, Australia and New Zealand! Almost any SILVER RADIO owner on the west coast can get the thrill of hearing such programs on a good night just before dawn from a good location—and coast to coast reception is almost "regular fare".

It takes an extraordinary radio to give such results. And that's just what SILVER RADIO is—the one radio that stands out from all others . . . because it does things other radios cannot equal. That's a big claim—but to prove it your SILVER RADIO dealer will make before you four of the most amazing tests you have ever witnessed. The tests are surprisingly simple, yet they're so "stiff" that they let you cut behind the advertising barrage of fancy words and claims and really let you find the best radio.

Then, after the "Ice-Pick Test", the "Vanishing-Aerial Test", the "Hairpin Test", and the "Coin Test" have shown you the amazing difference between SILVER RADIO and all others, make any other side-by-side tests you can think of . . . the stiffer the better . . . for sharp tuning, to see how SILVER RADIO gets one, and only one, program at a time . . . check the beauty of SILVER RADIO cabinets . . . test for tone, to sense its gorgeous tonal possibilities. Then you'll realize why world-famous opera stars, critics of tone above all else, choose SILVER RADIO for their own homes.

And, after all, why not have the best in your home, too? . . . tell your SILVER RADIO dealer that you've come to see his four amazing tests—and get the folder describing them.

Startling New Features!

SILVER RADIO, product of the manufacturer who introduced screen-grid radio to America in 1927, is probably the most widely scrutinized of all radios today. But only SILVER RADIO has "everything new"—FOUR screen-grid tubes, screen-grid power detection, band selector tuning, matched-impedance electro-dynamic speaker, Overtone Switch to minimize static, complete shielding, automatic line voltage regulation, where desired, and ELIMINATION OF ALL AERIAL CONNECTION.

THE CONCERT GRAND, illustrated, is of beautiful and unusually substantial construction. The top is of four-way matched butt walnut, and surmounts side panels of diamond matched oriental walnut, flanking a central panel of figured bird's-eye maple—the whole hand-rubbed to mirror-like polish.

Price, absolutely complete, less only tubes $173.00

Two other cabinet styles, Model 60 Sheraton Lowboy at $160.00 and Model 95 Sheraton Sliding Door Highboy at $195.00, can also be seen at any SILVER RADIO dealer.

HE WAS LIFELESS AND DESPONDENT

But ALL-BRAN made him wide-awake and well — doctor prescribed it

CONSTIPATION ruins hopes, saps strength. Yet thousands of sufferers have found the way to relieve and prevent this disease. Read how this man rid his system of constipation.

"During the three years before ALL-BRAN saved me, I experienced more embarrassment than I care to tell of. Being listless, dull, lazy and discouraged, I could not keep my job. My friends didn't want my company and I was tired of being asked 'What in the world is the matter with you?'

"After spending much money for treatment, I finally found a doctor who advised me to eat ALL-BRAN three times a day. I did this for three months and I didn't need to be told that I looked better . . . I felt better and acted better . . . I am still using ALL-BRAN every morning and have no trouble now whatsoever." (Name and address upon request.)

Guard against constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to prevent it—to relieve it. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Far better than habit-forming drugs and pills.

ALL-BRAN is 100% effective. Doctors recommend it because it promotes natural elimination. Serve it with milk or cream. Use it in cooking—muffins, bread, etc. Delicious recipes on the package. Grocers sell it. Restaurants, hotels, dining-cars serve it. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Aldorf, Switzerland—Bobbed heads have been taxed 12 cents each for a year in the Canton Uri, but so far as revenue is concerned the tax is a fizzle. Most women have refused to pay, dared the authorities to do their worst and answered they have the same right to haircuts as men. Deputies at a meeting decided to postpone action, hoping for a change in styles.

Paris—Whiskers for all Frenchmen over 30 are advocated by Maurice De Waleffe. In the newspaper Midi, of which he is part owner, he writes: "Whiskers form part of our national type. Our young men, aping Americans, have abandoned whiskers. We do not want to become standardized Americans. Let us be French." M. De Waleffe has a soupcon of a moustache, otherwise is clean-shaven.

New York—Alfred Stern, 13, is in a fair way to become a rich boy. He designs giraffes, clowns, soldiers, funny faces and the like for handkerchiefs for a Paris manufacturer and receives five cents per dozen as royalty. The handkerchiefs are becoming a fad for tots. Alfred has ambitions to be a stage designer.

Bound Brook, N. J.—Orchid nurseries founded here 22 years ago have been sold for $2,500,000. Thirty-five acres are covered with greenhouses containing 125,000 specimens, some valued as high as $700 each.

New York—The business of movement of cash and securities through New York streets involves bonding of some 700 men for a total of $5,000,000,000 and insurance on more than 150 armored trucks for about as much more.

Buffalo, N. Y.—The coast guard is trying out listening devices for detecting run runners on the Great Lakes. A seven-foot tube placed over the side of a rum chaser, it is hoped, will enable the compass bearing and approximate speed of another craft within a nine-mile radius to be determined.

Berlin—Abolition of military conscription has caused a steadily rising marriage rate in Germany. Dr. Otto Wagner of the Federal Statistical Bureau explains it: "Man is born to serve and obey. If he does not serve the state he has to serve women, and there are 2,000,000 more women than men in Germany today."

Vatican City—The first fine imposed in the new state is about 50 cents. A bicycle messenger drew it for riding without a bell.

Berlin—The per capita consumption of beer is 240 gallons a year.

Budapest—Prince Abdul Kadir is suing Princess Hatiste Maitde Mustafa for $2,000 on the ground that she libelled the late Sultan in a book. The Sultan was related to both plaintiff and defendant.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Oct. 22.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will have a supper in the church house Wednesday evening, October 23, instead of Thursday evening, October 24, as announced in Saturday's Freeman. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock, giving the business men plenty of time to be present. The menu is very appetizing and should attract everyone. Creamed chicken on biscuit, mashed potatoes, tea biscuit, jelly, carrots and peas, cabbage salad, apple pie, tea and coffee for only fifty cents.

Thomas Tucker of New York city spent the week-end at his home on Broadway.

Theodore Knetch and his daughter, Florence, of Kingston spent Sunday with Mrs. Knetch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knetch, on Stout avenue.

Hope Lodge, No. 65, Knights of Pythias, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in Pythian Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Best of Kingston spent Sunday with Mr. Best's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Best, on Broadway.

Hope Temple, No. 80, Pythian Sisters, will meet Wednesday evening, October 30, at 8 o'clock, in their rooms on Broadway.

Lucretia Rebekah Lodge will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in their rooms in Odd Fellows' Hall in Ulster Park.

Mrs. May Ricks of Kingston was a guest of friends in Port Ewen Sunday afternoon.

The regular meeting of the Port Ewen Fire Department will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Every fireman is urged to be present as the company will hold a smoker and serve refreshments at this meeting.

Miss Louise Hotaling and her Sunday school class will have charge of the mystery booth at the annual fair and bazaar of the Reformed Church. The members and friends of the congregation are requested to furnish packages for this booth. They may be left at Miss Hotaling's home.

Miss Gertrude Ellsworth, who has spent the summer in Stamford, N. Y., has returned to her home on South Broadway.

The friends of Mrs. Walter Dunlap will be pleased to know she is getting along nicely from her recent fall. Dr. G. W. Rose is attending her.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ferguson spent the week-end with friends in Rutherford, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Miller of New Paltz were callers on Mrs. Etta Lowe on Salem street, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Ella Atkins of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Atkins on Broadway.

Mrs. Elvin Hutchings and Miss Etta Ellsworth of Broadway called on the Misses Laura and Gertrude Ellsworth on South Broadway, Sunday afternoon.

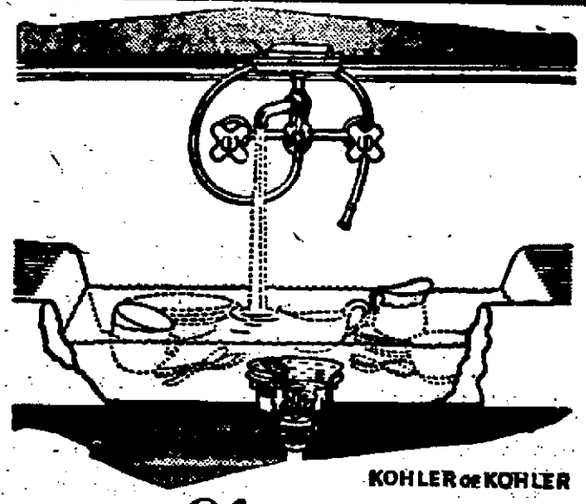
Prayer service will be held in the Methodist Chapel Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Choir rehearsal at the close of the service.

Miss Ruth Whitcraft of New York city is spending a few weeks at her home on Broadway.

Alexander Luther of Bloomingburg spent the week-end with his friend, Henry Deane, Jr., on Broadway.

RIFTON.

Rifton, Oct. 22.—A most enjoyable evening was spent at Rifton Hotel by the friends of Miss Elinor Felber and Ruth Friedman in honor of their sixteenth birthday. The guests first assembled in the lobby of the hotel, which was prettily decorated with autumn leaves. Here they were entertained for a time, following which they were ushered into the spacious dance hall, which was dimly lighted by huge jack-o-lanterns. Garlands of autumn colors and autumn leaves in profusion hung everywhere. Here the guests amused themselves by dancing and playing games. There was not a dull moment for anyone as Elinor and Ruth were charming hostesses. At 11:30 all were seated at tables on which were placed two huge birthday cakes. Then dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Felber and the Friedman sisters. Next came the fortunes, written in invisible ink, causing much fun. More games were played after which the guests departed, saying they had spent a delightful evening. The following were present: Jennie and Olga Buzdygan, Emily Eckert, Virginia Fraleigh, Eva Van Kleeck, Sadie Friedman, Ethel Decker of Walden, Ruth Vanderwater, Esopus, Mary Phelan, New York city, Lucile Elston, New Salem, Anna Devine, Robert and Eugene Schmitt, David Decker, Earl Sailor, Robert Morrow, Harry Hoff of Massachusetts, Fred Groth, William Van Kleeck, George Fradenburg and Clinton Lewis.



KOHLER or KOHLER

Of course
Kohler Sinks Hold Water!

Why shouldn't a kitchen sink hold water without the use of a pan—can you tell us?

The ultra-modern Kohler Sinks that we sell do hold water. They have a remarkable new improvement, the Duostrainer, to keep the water in when you want it and let it out with a rush when you are through. An added convenience is a removable strainer cup which catches debris and lifts out for easy emptying.

The Duostrainer is only one big new efficiency feature of Kohler Sinks. Come in and let us tell you about the others and show you the Kohler fixtures in color.

It is not what a man gets, but what a man is, that he should think of. He should first think of his character, and then of his condition. He that has character need have no fear of his condition. Character will draw condition after it.—Henry Ward Beecher.

CANTILEVER SHOES
NATURAL ARCH SUPPORT

FATIGUE—frazzled nerves—headaches . . . shoes may be—shoes often are—the cause.

The modern woman cannot and will not limp through life. As she has freed her body from stiff, uncomfortable clothes, so does she now free her feet from stiff, uncomfortable shoes. Today thousands of smart, active women are wearing Cantilevers.

The orthopedic principles of Cantilever Shoes work toward foot-health and comfort from the first step on. The flexible shank supports the arch without binding or restricting the foot. The straight inner line allows the foot to function naturally. The wedged heel distributes the weight of the body and encourages graceful, light walking. . .

The new fall styles in the new popular colors are particularly interesting as they show how much good style a comfortable shoe can have. New, unique comfort features have been added. Come in and see this new improved Cantilever!

CONTRIBUTARY DETAILS MAKING FOR CHIC THIS AUTUMN.

New York.—The number of times Hudson seal is pressed into service as a trimming this season is surprising for heretofore this pelt has been more widely used for the body rather than the trimming. Its use on color, especially any of the tan and beige shades, is always stunning. Beaver is another fur much in use, not only as a "rumble coat," but as a trimming for the new dull reds, and bottle greens, to say nothing of other shades. The combination of beaver with red seems to be particularly liked, Lanvin having given brown, with tomato red its start in life.

One has of course noticed with what frequency brown stockings are appearing. That they are worn with black, as well as brown shoes is something for which to be thankful. A woman always looks well turned out when she has hit upon a kindred shade for hosiery, furs, handbag and gloves. Hats match either these accessories or the dress, suit or coat.

Suede gloves and shoes, as well as suede and antelope bags are distinctly smart with metal details on bags, and interesting new trimming features on both gloves and shoes. Bags are inclined toward metal details, gloves toward slip-on and sometimes flared gauntlet types, and hosiery toward browns and tan grays, with many mesh effects for sports. While novelty shoes still are an attraction, the feeling is that the lengthened skirt will simplify shoe fashions. These skirts are not at their best with shoes strapping or in any way drawing attention to the ankle. The new silhouette calls for an unbroken line, hence the current popularity of the opera pump.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Smart Suit For a Little Boy.

6623. As here pictured this model was developed in brown velveteen. Flannel, jersey tweed and firm wash fabrics are also recommended. Pongee is serviceable, as is also linen. The left front of the blouse laps over the right front in shape outline and is finished with a serviceable pocket. The sleeve is a comfortable blouse sleeve. The trousers are a regulation model, with side closing and ample pockets.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 2, 4 and 6 years. To make a 4 year size will require 2⅛ yards of 35 inch material. Trouser pockets and inner waist bands may be made of lining or coarse muslin, and will require ⅜ yard 22 inches wide, cut crosswise. To finish neck and shaped front edge with bias binding will require 1¼ yard 1½ inch wide.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Afternoon Frocks Popular in Paris

Formal Wear for Daytime Displayed by All Paris Dressmakers.

Fashions are interesting the whole year round, but in the fall they become exciting. One feels a sense of keenest expectancy everywhere—in the shops, at the wholesalers and, of course, first and foremost at the Parisian dressmakers.

Just what will be offered for the winter months and out of what is offered, what will be the mode accepted by smart women? For, of course, clever as Paris is in the designing of new costumes, writes a fashion correspondent in the Louisville Courier-Journal, there are some fashions displayed which are never accepted to any great extent. Many of these come into prominence a year later than their first launching. Still others find acceptance in France yet, for some subtle, hard-to-explain reason, are practically never seen on this side of the Atlantic.

Of course this same expectancy and excitement are present also in the spring when the clothes for summer are making their appearance, but present in far less degree. Summer clothes are delightful, but they assume a position of less importance than the winter wardrobe. Especially is this true this season when formality is everywhere evident as the keynote of the well-dressed woman's wardrobe. The day is gone when the simple straight-line sports frock was donned early in the morning and worn until one dressed for dinner. Today the fashionable woman includes in her wardrobe a dress for every occasion. Formal afternoon frocks are seen at every Paris dressmaker's opening, proof that they will be found wherever well-dressed women congregate this winter.

Richness of fabric, elaboration of cut and trimming and formality of line are everywhere and promise to lend to the winter mode a color and richness which has been long absent.

The spotlight of attention has for some seasons past been focussed on the waistline. Would it remain low? Would it become only slightly higher? Would it practically disappear? Would it take its place at the normal waistline.

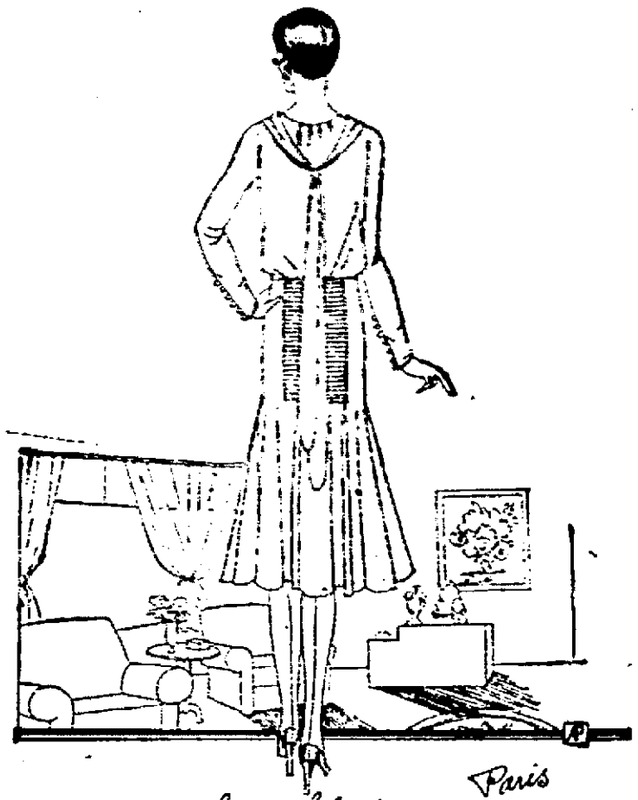
The answer, as given almost unanimously by the Paris dressmakers in their winter openings, seems to be that the normal waistline has ceased to be rumor and has become an accomplished fact. No longer are we content with the top of the hip bone, or a bit an inch higher than last season. The die is cast, apparently, and Paris promises us that we are again to put our belts where nature placed our waistlines.

And yet we may say a word to the woman to whom a high waistline is not becoming. All the styles this season are susceptible to individual adaptation. Skirts are longer, but if the very long skirt is unbecoming one may wear a shorter one and still be smart.

"Didn't grandfather make allowances for you when you were young?" asked the slightly wayward college boy. "Sure," said his parent. "About 50 cents a week."

Things could be worse, though, on the Manchurian front. Suppose they had given each of those towns three or four different names, like characters in a Dostoievski novel.

"A few years hence," says an expert on sound films, "the family album will talk." Personally, we prefer the old silent type of relative with the rouched hair and the Ascot tie.



Paris
Lucien Lelong's new dresses are mostly flat in front, with inconspicuous belts placed close to the normal waistline. Nearly all have blouse backs like this brown crepe de chine model—

JURY EXONERATES GIRL WHO SHOT AND KILLED NEGRO

Selma, Ala., Oct. 22 (AP).—Exonerated by a coroner's jury verdict of justifiable homicide, Miss Esther Barnes, 20, today was back at her farm home, 14 miles from here, where yesterday she shot and killed a 27-year-old negro who she said made improper advances to her.

The girl, who telephone Sheriff R. F. Hammer here after the slaying, saying "A negro has been killed," told the coroner's jury she was alone when Ed McKee came into the house yesterday forenoon, called her familiar names and said he would return.

Within a few minutes the negro came back, Miss Barnes said, and she shot him through the throat with a small rifle.

Sheriff Hammer ordered her held but did not file formal charges pending the coroner's investigation. The coroner's jury gave its verdict last night, and Miss Barnes returned to her home.

Sheriff's deputies who went to investigate the slaying said the girl at first asserted the shooting was accidental.

Boulevard's Derivation

The word "boulevard" is originally French and was first applied to certain wide streets in Paris. It is believed to be a corruption of the German "bollwerk" or the English "bulwark," meaning a fortification or rampart in the defense of a walled city.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct 22 (AP).—After a week of severe declines the stock market finally turned upward today, with a rebound comparable to the sharp upturn which came upon the heels of the drastic reaction of October 3 and 4. Scores of stocks sold up 3 to 30 points, and many regained the losses of the past two sessions.

Traders felt the violent sweeping out of weakened marginal accounts in the past two sessions, when trading facilities were overwhelmed with frenzied selling, had in a large measure corrected a weak technical position and an inflated price-level, and had placed the market once more on fairly firm footing. Commission house advices generally maintained a rather cautious attitude, however, and there was a tendency to look for rather quiet and irregular trading for a time.

A statement by Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank, just returned from Europe, that he considered the market had had a healthy reaction and that the decline had probably overrun itself, had a salutary effect upon Wall street sentiment.

The day's news was largely pleasing, including declaration of a $4 extra dividend by Norfolk and Western, several satisfactory earnings statements, conspicuous among which were those of General Electric and American Superpower, and approval of a plan by Missouri Pacific directors to refund accumulated preferred dividends.

Avoiding War

I have as little superstition in me as any man living, but my secret opinion has ever been and still is, that God Almighty will not give up a people to military destruction, or leave them unsupportedly to perish, who have so earnestly and repeatedly sought to avoid the calamities of war, by every decent method which wisdom could invent.—Thomas Payne.

Beauty in the Home

In order to domesticize the modern femme, the masterful man becomes a diplomat. Instead of saying sternly, "The place for woman is in the home," he merely hands her some paint buckets and a brush and tells her to take her time smearing up the flat.—Chicago News.

Andrew D. Relyea of Saugerties, died very suddenly Sunday at the home of his son, David H. Relyea, on Flatbush avenue, this city, in his seventy-ninth year. Heart trouble was the cause of death. Mr. Relyea had been spending several days visiting his son. He was a member of William H. Raymond Lodge, No. 59, I. O. O. F., and Queen Ulster Rebekah Lodge, No. 34. He is survived by his son and a daughter, Mrs. John Zimmer, of Saugerties. Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at the Reformed Church in Flatbush at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Mt. Marion Cemetery.

The death of Mrs. Kathryn M. Rich, wife of the late George L. Rich, occurred at her home in Brooklyn on Monday evening of last week. Having spent several seasons in this city and vicinity, Mrs. Rich had made many friends here who will regret to learn of her death. With her many fine attributes of character and a kindness of heart she won for herself a place in the hearts of those with whom she came in contact. Besides a son, Harold A. Rich, and a daughter, Ethel, wife of Severyn B. Schoonmaker, formerly of this city, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Albert H. Davis, and a brother, Henry Meldrum, all of Brooklyn. Funeral services were held from her late residence, 1735 Ocean avenue, Brooklyn, with interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

West Shokan, Oct. 22.—All were deeply sorrowed upon learning of the death of Mary Winkler Dwyer, one of the community's most highly respected young women, whose untimely death occurred on Saturday morning at the Benedictine Hospital. Besides her husband, Charles Dwyer, she is survived by her 19 months old daughter, Dorothy, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Winkler, her grandfather, uncle Joseph and three brothers, Edward, Joseph and Bobby, also three sisters, Alice, Helen and Theresa. Since their marriage in April, 1927, the couple have conducted the Winkler store, until their recent removal to the McRoberts residence October first. To many the news of her death was a sudden shock as they had not even known of her illness and removal to the hospital. The body was at the Kingston residence of the Winkler family, 34 East Chestnut street, the funeral being held on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's R. C. Church. The cortege was large and the floral tributes many. The many friends of the bereaved husband and relatives extend their profound sympathy.

President Hoover Dedicates Ohio River Monument

Eden Park, Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 22 (AP)—Standing on a towering bluff overlooking the Ohio river, President Hoover today dedicated a white granite shaft commemorating the completion of the lock system on that waterway from Pittsburgh to Cairo.

"A new agency of service now begins its quiet labors for mankind," Mr. Hoover said in congratulating the whole Ohio valley and the nation on this occasion. "This new instrument of commerce, from which untold blessings will come year after year, is an enduring monument to those patient men of my own profession whose lives are spent in devising means to increase the comfort and convenience of the world. But men of every mould have wrought with equal bravery in this transformation of the wild beauty of the Ohio river into the not less beautiful but more tractable stream of today. The engineers found the practical means, but many others contributed to the vision, courage and persistence needful to this accomplishment.

"Statesmen, river men and businessmen may share the glory. The elders present may well regret the absence of such stalwart figures as Colonel William E. Merrill and Captain William B. Rodgers, whose ingenuity and dauntless faith bore so large a part in this achievement."

The chief executive paid special tribute to the long labors of Senator Theodore E. Burton and Speaker Nicholas Longworth on behalf of the improved waterway and expressed deep regret that Senator Burton, who was chairman of the first inland waterways commission, was unable to be present because of illness.

Mr. Hoover was presented to an audience of several thousand on the bluff, and untold thousands who heard the ceremonies on a nation-wide radio hookup, by Governor Cooper of Ohio, who, with Governor Conley of West Virginia, greeted the chief executive here.

A drizzling rain fell throughout the ceremonies which were held almost at the base of the enormous old vine-covered tower at the summit of the park. The speaking was from the band stand but the rain drove in on the chief executive who was far from dry as a result of a drive of three and a half miles from a hotel to the park in an open automobile with Mrs. Hoover at his side.

After the simple ceremonies at the park, the presidential party drove to the home of Speaker Longworth on Grandin Road, East Walnut Hills, before returning to the Hotel Gibson for lunch as the guest of the city of Cincinnati.

Hurt in Crash on Woodstock Road

At about 3 o'clock this morning while Grant B. Elwyn, 29, of Woodstock, was driving a Cadillac touring car from Kingston to Woodstock the car skidded off the road near the Britt farm and collided with a telephone pole.

In the car at the time were Mr. Elwyn, who was driving, Rudolph Shultis, 21, of Woodstock, and Mrs. Georgia Zoeller of Woodstock. All three of the occupants were injured when the car sideswiped the pole.

Mr. Elwyn, who is an artist, was cut about the face and forehead. One of the occupants of the car went to the Margolis home nearby and sent in a call for the city ambulance. At the Kingston Hospital Rudolph Shultis was treated for cuts and bruises about the head and face by D. Jacobson and it is also possible that he may have suffered from a fracture of the skull. Mrs. Zoelier suffered from injuries to her right hip and arm. She was also taken to the hospital.

An investigation was made today of the accident. At the time of the accident it was raining and the driver of the car reported that his car had skidded on the wet pavement and as he drove off the road the car and pole collided, causing the injuries.

First prize went to South Carolina, second prize to California, and one of the third prizes to Kingston.

Sends Sharp Note to Jugoslavia.

Belgrade, Jugoslavia, Oct. 22 (AP).—The Italian minister has handed this government a sharp note from Rome relating to student demonstrations in Jugoslavia and the language of the Jugo-Slavian press. Investigation is demanded into an affair at Ragusa Sunday where citizens beat two Italian sailors; indemnities are demanded for the sailors. Jugoslavian authorities today looked upon some of the demands in the note as interference with Jugoslavian internal affairs.

MARLBOROUGH SCHOOL BUILDING CONDEMNED.

Marlborough, Oct. 22.—Overcrowded conditions, blind hallways, and only one fire escape were among the reasons the State Department of Education gave for condemning the Marlborough school building in a report received by the local board of trustees the early part of this week.

This message from Albany came as a surprise to trustees and local people alike.

The department signified that unless the taxpayers got busy and came to a definite decision about purchasing new grounds and erecting a new building, the state money would be taken away from Marlborough.

The hallways lighted only by electric lights and lack of protection against danger of fire were among grievances. The report stated there was but one fire escape and it was necessary to go through the window to reach it.

Gramm Fined $1,000 and Costs

Tampa, Oct. 22 (AP).—Walter Gramm, Chicago coal dealer, arrested on a liquor law violating charge in Key West last May, after he had assumed the responsibility for liquor found in trunks brought into this country from Cuba by Congressman M. Alfred Michaelson, of Illinois, pleaded guilty in Federal court here today and was fined $1,000 and costs.

Gramm's appearance before Federal Judge A. Akerman here this morning came as a surprise to those outside the judge's office. The Chicagoan's arrival was unannounced and no inkling of the contemplated action was given prior to the opening of court.

Gramm's attorney made a plea for clemency on grounds that his client was "a responsible business man," that the "error was just a social one," and that the defendant was a "Fall Guy". Gramm was a member of Congressman Michaelson's party, and there was "no commercial aspect to the liquor transaction."

Judge Akerman said he had no desire to wreck a man's life with a prison term and would impose the fine. He added that the maximum penalty was two years' imprisonment.

Commenting on his sentence, Judge Akerman said:

"I have no desire to punish him for the faults of the escaped congressman—one of those who votes dry and drinks wet."

AMERICAN RECORDS POPULAR IN FRANCE.

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP).—American phonograph records are so popular in France that in the outlying cities and towns, shops which dispense them are regularly able to give concerts and charge admission to the performance.

An American trade agent, reporting to the Commerce Department of this phenomenon, says that the thrifty French are willing to pay two or three francs for the privilege of hearing the new stuff run through the machine, buying afterward.

Injured in Fall.

Philip C. Smith of Saugerties, senior member of the firm of J. C. Smith & Son, Main street merchants, while going down stairs in the Lazarus block, where he was installing a pipeless furnace, Monday morning fell and had the misfortune to break his right arm at the wrist, also a rib, and suffered bruises to his back and side. Drs. James Krom and B. W. Gifford attended Mr. Smith's injuries. Later Mr. Smith was taken to his home on Elm street.

Grid Games of Great Interest in East Saturday

New York, Oct. 22 (AP).—A half dozen intersectional games provide the sauce for the east's football feast on Saturday but traditional rivalries furnish the real backbone of the menu.

On a day when such games as Army-Yale, Dartmouth-Harvard, Navy-Princeton and Syracuse-Brown are available to tempt football followers, only the Carnegie-Notre Dame fray, among intersectional battles, can offer much competition.

The so-called Irish and so-called Scotch are friendly rivals of some standing. Carnegie Tech can boast of two successive victories over Knute Rockne's Ramblers from South Bend but it appears that three in a row is a bit too much to expect. Carnegie, without Howard Harpster calling the plays, does not loom so formidably as the aggregation that crushed Notre Dame, 27 to 7, at South Bend last fall. And Rockne's team, with Carideo, Elder, Brill and others, is much improved over that of last year.

The other intersectional games bring together New York University and Butler of Indianapolis; Marquette of Milwaukee and Holy Cross; Duke and Villa Nova; Kenyon of Ohio and Haverford, all in the east, and West Virginia and the Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater, Okla.

Army's game with Harvard last week served only to confirm what previously had been something more than a slight suspicion—namely that to beat the cadets one must stop Cagle. There seems to exist considerable doubt whether Yale can do either next Saturday.

Dartmouth, with Marsters running wild, looked invincible against Columbia but it remains to be seen whether even "Special Delivery Al" can get past a fine Harvard line.

Beaten by Brown and Cornell on successive Saturdays, Princeton hopes to get going at the expense of Navy, but those same hopes seem to lack any logical foundation. Navy has been beaten only by Notre Dame and revealed a powerful offensive against Duke.

Syracuse, highest scoring team in the country, will be favored over Brown, although the Bruins have shown they are not to be taken lightly despite an early defeat by Springfield and another beating by Yale.

Penn State expects all sorts of trouble from Lafayette although Herb McCracken's Leopards are not nearly so dangerous as they were a couple of seasons back. Two undefeated teams—Davis and Elkins and Fordham are to meet at the Polo Grounds and another, Williams, probably will suffer its first reverse at the hands of Columbia. Western Maryland, another unbeaten aggregation, meets Albright at Reading, Pa. Tufts, still all victorious, faces New Hampshire.

Pittsburgh takes it easy against Allegheny and Penn should have no more than slight difficulty with Lehigh. Georgetown has a practice game with Lebanon Valley and Temple should not extend powerful Washington and Jefferson. Colgate expects a romp with Providence as does Boston College with Canisius. Bucknell seems due for revenge for the 14-12 defeat the Bisons suffered at the hands of Gettysburg last year. The first of the "Little Three" championship games look like an overwhelming victory for Amherst over Wesleyan, beaten in its first four starts.

Walter Lerian Dies From Injuries.

Baltimore, Oct. 22 (AP).—Walter Lerian, Philadelphia National League catcher, died today of injuries received when a motor truck struck him on a sidewalk. Lerian was struck yesterday afternoon. Police said Charles Lloyd, driver of the truck, swerved to avoid a collision with another machine and ran on to the sidewalk, crushing Lerian against a building. "Peck" Lerian went to the Philadelphia Nationals from the New Haven club of the Eastern League in 1928.

Yellow Jackets To Play Sunday At Springfield

There will be no football game here Sunday, the Yellow Jackets having an engagement with the Silvertown Cords of Springfield, Mass., the same eleven that handed a thrilling to last season's Kingston representatives.

The Yellow Jackets will go to Springfield somewhat crippled after their hard tussle with the West Point Cavalry last Sunday. They will not have Captain Joie Hoffman in the lineup as quarterback, which will be one drawback. Whether Vince Rice and Beany will play has not been stated.

Realizing that they have a tough assignment the Yellow Jackets are making ready for plenty of trouble and will strive to give the Silvertowns a hard battle.

PUNTS and PASSES

(By The Associated Press)

Providence, R. I.—Wes Moulton apparently is one of Brown's most promising backs. Playing for the third team against the second in scrimmage yesterday, Wes intercepted a pass and ran 40 yards for a touchdown, kicked the extra point, then booted a field goal to give the third stringers a 10-0 victory.

Princeton, N. J.—Princeton expects to have its whole team on the field against Navy Saturday. Mestres and Moore, regular guards who have been out of action most of the season, are ready to play, and the only injury of the Cornell game, a cut over Barfield's eye, is not expected to keep the star tackle out.

Hanover, N. H.—Jackson Cannell, Dartmouth coach, intends to have plenty of reserves ready to go in against Harvard. He started off the week by drilling his substitutes against Crimson plays while the regulars took a rest.

Pittsburgh—The Scotch of Carnegie meet the Irish of Notre Dame Saturday. Among the leading Scotsmen are Karcis, Yerina, Rosenzweig, Highberger and a pair of Flanagans. Carideo, Savoldi, Vezie and Schwartz are near the head of the Bernian parade.

Cambridge, Mass.—Harvard may be a bit short handed in tackling Dartmouth this week. The Crimson came out of the Army game in good shape but Fullback Wally Harper and Tackle Hal Levin have not yet recovered from earlier injuries.

Hamilton, N. Y.—Colgate's scrubs have joined the ranks of those who couldn't take what the Varsity handed out. Coach Andy Kerr has installed a scrimmage machine to take some of the burden off the second squad.

Scores Made at Weekly Shoot

Eight members of the Ulster County Gun Club competed for the Ralph trophy Saturday afternoon. Longendyke and Hopkins each broke 25 straight and in the shoot-off Hopkins broke 22 to Longendyke's 21.

This gives Hopkins his third win on the cup.

Exceptionally good scores were made by most of the shooters.

There were two 25's, six 24's, five 23's and five 22's scored.

Shooting from 19 yards Chaffee broke 24, Coles 24 and Finch 21.

The full score:

Chaffee	23	23	24	24	24	—95%
Coles	19	22	23	22	24	—91%
Finch	19	24	22	21		—86%
Martin	23	24	23			—93%
Longendyke	20	25	21			—88%
Hopkins	18	25	22			—86%
Mills	22	20	19			—81%
Wilson	17	18				—70%

FOOTBALL PLAYERS FULL OF APPLESAUCE AND CLIPPINGS.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 22 (AP).—"Applesauce and clippings" are worrying Coach Bob Zuppke, of the University of Illinois this season.

"These blokes walk down the streets and get filled with applesauce every place they go," the little Dutchman said in discussing players. "Everybody tells them how good they are. Then they go home and read the same stuff in the newspapers and pretty soon they begin to believe it.

"They are filled with applesauce and their pockets are filled with clippings. The load is too heavy to carry and play football at the same time."

Will Discuss "Y" Basketball.

This evening at 8 all members of the senior gym class membership of the "Y" will meet and discuss the representative basketball question for this year. "Chet" Dolson and Guy Allen will be present and will have charge of the meeting. Mr. Dolson is well known in basketball circles of Kingston. Mr. Allen is physical director of the "Y." The meeting will start promptly at 8 and only those who have senior memberships in good standing will be admitted.

SCOTTS EMULSION

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould,
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

The checkered career of Lew Fonseca, the Oakland Portuguese, reached a climax when he was selected, unofficially but nevertheless decisively for the American League's "most valuable player" distinction of 1929. The swarthy fogger, who was supposed to be about through as a major leaguer, put on a great exhibition to beat out Al Simmons and Jimmy Foxx for the batting championship. Here's how Gordon Cobbledick of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, summed up his work:

"Fonseca, in addition to being the league's leading batsman, was one of its best defensive first baseman and a leading base-runner. He furnished much of the punch and more of the inspiration that enabled the Indians to make their spectacular climb from seventh place to third.

"For six weeks in the early part of the season, when the Cleveland pitchers were going badly and no one else was hitting, Fonseca single-handed kept the tribe from slipping into the cellar. I firmly believe that without Fonseca the Indians would have finished in the second division, and in this opinion I have the support of many of his team-mates."

Theoretically sprinters should make good ball-carriers, providing they can be "shaken loose" in an open field, but usually they lack shiftiness and durability. Red Grange and Red Cagle never won any sprint titles but there have been few halfbacks as hard to catch on any gridiron as these two. They combined average speed with elusiveness, which happens to be just as essential when a flock of tacklers are to be avoided.

Ray Barbuti and Chet Bowman scored touchdowns as well as sprint victories for Syracuse. Barbuti, rugged enough to shine in both sports and then win Olympic laurels, may try the professional gridiron. Al Miller, Harvard's 200-pound sprinter, was also a good halfback and Charley Rogers, Penn track star, outran the secondary defense of a number of teams a few years ago.

George Simpson of Ohio State, the world's 100-yard record-holder, and his Texas rival, Claude Bracey of Rice Institute, reconsidered plans to try the gridiron but Cy Leland of Texas Christian has changed his spikes for cleats.

Two of the fastest men on the gridirons this fall are Jesse Hill, the Southern California fullback, and Jack Elder, the flashy Notre Dame ball-carrier. Both are quick starters, with the weight and drive to shake off would-be tacklers. They will do their stuff on the same scene of action, Soldier Field at Chicago, on November 9, with the prospect of well over 100,000 spectators being on hand for one of the main intersectional battles of the year.

Criticism's Effect

There is no truer test of a man's qualities for permanent success than the way he takes criticism. The little-minded man can't stand it. It pricks his egotism. He "crawfishes." He makes excuses. Then, when he finds that excuses won't take the place of results, he sulks and pouts. It never occurs to him that he might profit from the incident.—Thomas A. Edison.

Joie LaGray to Fight Kid Lee In Main Bout

Joie La Gray, who has reversed the careers of several high class National Guard boxers in his day, will swap punches for the first time in a Kingston ring next Friday night, when he takes on Kid Lee of New York in the feature 10 round armory scrap.

LaGray, the type that bores in all the time, will give the fans plenty of action according to Matchmaker Jimmy Ambrose, who promised Captain E. C. Lawson, promoter of the local soldier bouts, that Kid Lee would give Joie one of the hardest fights he ever had.

The Kid is a hard puncher, says Ambrose, and is as tough as they come, so LaGray will have to extend himself in Friday's fight. However, he is prepared but intends to finish the tilt in regular LaGray style, via the knockout route.

Supporting the LaGray-Lee battle will be a card containing several local boys, Kid Buckman, the knockout artist; Charlie Molvin, Johnny Fisher, Freddie Shabot, Jerry Trought and Charlie Garrison.

Results of Bouts On Benefit Card

New York, Oct. 22 (AP).—A crowd of 20,000 contributors to the Palestine relief fund found that charity and sheer pleasure can be combined when it is an all-star boxing card that draws upon their pocketbooks. They also saw five good advertisements for the land they were helping to relieve in the relief fund's bouts at Madison Square Garden last night.

The charitable fight faithful almost filled the Garden and brought a gate of $101,000 for the relief fund. And they were repaid in full with five assorted victories for as many Jewish boys, starting with the veteran light heavyweight, Maxie Rosenbloom, and winding up with the youthful lightweight idol of the Bronx, Al Singer.

Singer received something of a surprise in the final ten-rounder from Davey Abad, brown-skinned battler from Panama, whose clever boxing kept Singer from landing more than a few solid blows in the first eight rounds. Al missed nearly every kind of blow in the book as Abad bobbed tantalizingly around the ring, but he finally solved the South American's style in the closing rounds to gain a decision.

Jack Berg, London's contribution to the card, had more success in the semi-final, winning a whirlwind battle from Bruce Flowers, New York negro lightweight. It was Berg's third victory over Flowers and the hardest won. Flowers caught the Englishman a clip on the head in the sixth round and carried the battle to even terms up to the last round, which decided the battle in Berg's favor.

Ruby Goldstein, New York middleweight, shortened the scheduled 50 rounds of boxing to 43 by stopping Joe Reno of Trenton, N. J., in the third frame of their battle. Reno hardly landed a blow. Maxie Rosenbloom opened the program with a decisive ten-round victory over Joe Sekyra of Dayton, Ohio; and Yale Okun, another light heavyweight from New York, pounded out a victory over Matt Adgie of Philadelphia in the second ten-rounder.

FIELDS OUTPOINTS GORILLA JONES IN FURIOUS FIGHT.

San Francisco, Oct. 22 (AP).—In ten rounds of as furious fighting as has been seen here in recent months, Jackie Fields, world welterweight champion, last night outpointed Gorilla Jones, Akron, Ohio, negro. Fields' title was not at stake.

From opening gong to closing bell the pair slugged in a frenzy of rights to the jaw and body that had a crowd of 30,000 in a near state of hysteria.

Jones, a dangerous puncher, carried the fight to the champion in the opening sessions but Fields' aggressiveness and stamina wore him down in the closing rounds.

Market For Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Oct. 22 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets).

Liberal supplies of upstate white Danish cabbage were available on the wholesale market today. The demand was very limited and the market continued dull. Bulk stock at railroad yards wholesaled at $25 to $30 per ton, mostly $28@$30. Sacked shipments of about 80 pounds peddled out on the downtown piers at $1.05@$1.10.

Most of the cabbage received from western New York arrived in bulk. However, shipments of sacked stock are steadily increasing. New York city last year received 2,231 carloads of cabbage from this state, as against 1,748 carloads for the previous season. A large volume of the city's supply during the 1928-1929 season was drawn from upstate counties of Ontario, Monroe, Onondaga, and Orleans. Other counties which forwarded carlots were Niagara, Cortland, Wayne, Livingston, Genesee, Yates, Cayuga, Chenango, Madison and Tompkins.

Arrivals of western New York celery, in the rough, were moderate. The undertone was generally dull. Sales were reported at $1.50@$2 per two-thirds crate. Some really fancy stock, however, commanded $2.25@$2.50.

On the muck lands of New York more late celery is produced than in any other state. This year about 5,100 acres were planted, compared with about 4,600 last year. A substantial percentage of this was further retarded by the long period of dry weather. Frosts in September and October injured many of the outer stalks as well as stopping the growth of a considerable number of the plants. The tarnished plant bug also did some injury. This means that the yield will be lowered since a larger number of stalks will be packed per crate. Carlot shipments of celery to October 12 showed 1,252 cars from New York this year compared with 1,442 in 1928. Michigan showed 1,312 cars this season compared with 1,384 last year. Reports from Michigan indicate that the celery there has been damaged by frost and that much of it will be too small to crate.

The demand for yellow onions was again slow today. The market continued inactive. Supplies were fairly liberal. At the stores of commission merchants, western New York U. S. No. 1 stock jobbed out at $2 per sack of 100 pounds. At the downtown piers, nevertheless, few sales exceeded $1.85 of the 153 carloads of domestic onions received on this market during the previous week, about one-half originated in this state.

Vets Costume Ball October 31

Entertainment that will please all who attend the annual costume ball of Joyce-Schirick Post, No. 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in the armory on Hallowe'en night, October 31, is being engaged by those in charge of the event.

Huling's trained seals, known throughout the United States for their stunts, almost human, is one of the features booked for the costume ball. The seals have played on all the big vaudeville circuits throughout the west and it is with great satisfaction that the act was booked for the Hallowe'en night ball of the veterans.

In addition to the seal act there will be another outstanding feature. The Radio Trio with a retinue of songs that have pleased large audiences will be at the armory to entertain those who enjoy good music.

Kingston also will have a part in furnishing talent for the ball. Harry Linton, proprietor of a local dancing studio, will have some of his star pupils on the program. The act that he will furnish is not to be made up of dancing entirely. He has some novelty offerings to present in the way of comedy and other entertaining features. Mr. Linton is a former theatrical producer with a thorough knowledge of what present day audiences demand as entertainment.

Harry Maisenhelder, chairman of the music committee, will have the best ensemble of musicians possible for him to obtain. Music of quality is what Mr. Maisenhelder intends to furnish for the dancers, who are promised a better time than they ever had at the armory.

Nothing is ever gained by engaging in a heated argument, except possibly a black eye or a bloody nose.

etc., were made by Miss Easton and her capable assistants during the year 1928.

The attendance during 1928 at the grade schools was 1,642 boys and 1,566 girls. At the High School 554 boys and 571 girls. At the High School there are 16 men and 26 women on the teaching force and in the grade schools 11 men and 92 women teachers.

In addition to the chief of police, there are 30 officers. During the year 1928 there were 161 arrests for major crimes and 856 arrests for misdemeanors of a minor character, and 122 detentions for juvenile offenders.

During the year 1928 there were 68 fire bell alarms, 19 verbal calls; 38 fires occurred upon which insurance loss was paid. The insurance loss during the year was $33,350.61, a decrease of loss over the year 1927 of $122,460.39.

The newspapers of the city rank higher than those of any city of the population east of the Mississippi. The Kingston Daily Freeman has a daily circulation of 8,756 copies, and the Kingston Daily Leader a daily circulation of 2,792 copies.

It highly is probable that the business community will be astounded to learn that the bank clearings for the year 1928 were $243,433,034.54. Judge Clearwater in making his computation of bank clearings asked representatives of various banks for their estimate of bank clearings for the last year and the highest conjecture he met with was $84,000,000.

MANY ATTENDED MEETING OF SCHOOLWOMEN'S CLUB

One of the most largely attended and most interesting meetings of the Schoolwomen's Club of the Hudson Valley was held in the Newburgh High School on Saturday, October 12.

In the morning an inspiring address on "Modern Trends in Education" was given by Professor Charles E. Ward of New Paltz. In the afternoon Miss Dora M. Townsend, the first president of the club, now a traveler and lecturer, gave a most interesting account of her experiences in Roumania. The president, Miss Frieda L. Hayes of Kingston, presided, and added much to the interest of the afternoon program, when she attired herself in a beautiful costume of the Roumanians. A delicious luncheon was served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Lydia Miller.

Free Diphtheria Clinic Thursday

Another of the series of free diphtheria clinics will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Santa Maria Hall on North street. Any new children who attend the clinic Thursday will be admitted only on condition that the parents bring them to the city hall clinic the following week for the third injection of toxin antitoxin.

At the clinic held Monday afternoon at the city hall, 29 new children received their first injection of the serum.

Parents are rapidly realizing that the best method to award off the diphtheria from their children is to have the children immunized at these clinics.
